Berman Will Continue to Lead Village Roadshow's Film Activities as Well as Collaborate with the Entire Development Team on Content for all Media

Los Angeles, CA – February 19, 2019 – Village Roadshow Entertainment Group (VREG) CEO Steve Mosko announced today that Bruce Berman has entered into an agreement to continue as Chairman and Chief Executive Officer of Village Roadshow Pictures (VRP). Berman will retain oversight of VREG's feature film activities and collaborate with the entire development group to create content for television, streaming and emerging platforms. "Bruce is a very important part of Village Roadshow's past success and our plans for the future," stated Mosko. "Bruce understands the business and has relationships within the creative community that will aid us in bridging the gap in creating content beyond feature film using our deep library as well as original IP."

"I have been fortunate to have had a long tenure at Village Roadshow and I am pleased it will continue into the company's new phase of strategic growth into the production arena under Steve," said Berman. "I expect us to develop our own films and partner on others that will continue Village Roadshow's decades of bringing quality and ground breaking films to audiences. I am also looking forward to tapping into my experience and relationships to generate content for media beyond feature film."
